Mr. Merchant, why not place an announcement in the Gazette and invite the newcomers to Alexandria to visit your store and inspect your goods?

TO ORGANIZE BUREAUS

Members of Alexandria's New Chamber of Commerce to Meet for Organization for Active Work Tonight.

The first bureau meetings of the new Chamber of Commerce will be held tonight at the Chamber rooms. The Civic bureau meets promptly at 8 o'clock and the Traffic and Transportation bureau a half hour later. No special business is to come before the meetings, the purpose being to get organized. Those desiring to attend the Civic bureau meeting are requested to be at the Chamber rooms promptly at 8 o'clock as the meeting must begin on time so as not to delay the other meeting to begin at 8:30.

Tomorrow evening the Retail Merchants bureau will meet at 8 o'clock and the Convention and Publicity bureau at 8:30. On Wednesday night, the Manufacturers and Jobbers bureau meets at 8, and the Agricultural bureau at 8:30 o'clock.

Those who have not sent in their blanks, designation the bureaus in which they desire to enroll, should attend these meetings as an opportunity to enroll will be given at each meeting. There are no additional fees for belonging to bureaus.

Robert S. Jones is chairman of the civic bureau. He and Kenneth Ogden represent the bureau on the board of directors. Each bureau will be headed by a governing committee of five persons, consisting of the two directors from the bureau and three others. These are to be appointed by the chairman.

Orlando Kirk is chairman of the traffic and transportation bureau, and W. A. Smoot is the other representative of the bureau on the board of directors.

AMERICANS FOR FRANCE.

Will Send One Million by July—Will Speed Transportation — Government to Take Strong Measure to Secure the Needed Shipping.

If it be physically possible to provide the facilities for transport the United States will put more than 1,000,000 in France by the first of July, and there are reasons today for believing that the Government will mobilize the necessary shipping.

The order has gone forth from the President himself to concentrate all the energies of the nation upon the movement of men to the battle line, and, while it is still necessary to maintain the flow of foodstuffs and war materials to France, these shipments for the next few months will be subordinated to the troop movements.

President Wilson's decision to speed up the dispatch of men to France is the immediate result of the German offensive, and incidentally, the agreement of the Allied Governments to place General Foch in command of all the forces in the field. The President feels, as do both France and Great Britain, that the hour has come for the supreme effort; that Germany's military power must be crushed now before it can recuperate from the staggering losses of the past few days, and that every available man in the United States, France and England should be put into the field at the earliest possible moment.

RICH MUSICAL TREAT.

Paulist Choristers, Including One Hundred Men and Boys, to Sing In Alexandria Next Sunday.

Lovers of music in this city will be interested to learn that a rich treat is in store for all who attend the concert to be given at the Richmond Theater next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock by the Paulist Choristers of Chicago, including one hundred men and boys. They will sing for the benefit of the people of stricken France and will give only one concert while here. They will not appear in St. Mary's Church as was first reported, but will be heard only in the Richmond Theater as above stated.

Rev. Father W. J. Finn, the conductor, will be in personal charge, and the concert promises to be one of the best ever given in Alexandria.

The Virginia Lunch Room, at 403 King street, which has been closed for extensive repairs, will reopen for business again on Thursday, April 4.

EASTER IN WASHINGTON

Alexandrians Attend Services at the Episcopal Cathedral and Hear Sermon by the Archbishop of York.

The visit of the Archbishop of York, the Rt. Hon. and Most Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, D. D., to give him his full title, is not only of great interest to the Protestant Episcopal Church in this country, but also to this nation at large, on account of his mission in connection with the war in Europe and the part of Great Britain and the United States therein on the side of humanity, democracy and liberty.

Yesterday the archbishop preached at the Episcopal Cathedral in the morning, at old St. John's in the afternoon and at the Church of the Epiphany at night, of which the Rev. R. H. McKim, D. D., formerly of Christ Church, in this city, is the rector. There were large congregations at each of these interesting services, but as the Church of the Epiphany is the largest of all these churches, the number of persons presents must have been about 2,000.

As the Rev. Dr. McKim is an alumnus of the Theological Seminary near this city, he showed especial courtesy to its professors and students. Three of the professors were in the procession of the clergy at the service with the archbishop. Dr. Green, the dean who also took part in the service, and the Revs. Professors Crawford and Wallis, Professors Kennedy and Bell and the students had special seats in the church. Dr. Rollins, much to his regret and the regret of his colleagues, was not able to be present on account of sickness. The Rev. William J. Morton, rector of old Christ Church in this city, also had a special seat in the church as one of Dr. McKim's successors in the old church. A large number of Alexandrians were present at the service.

The archbishop's text was taken from Philippians 3:10, "That I may know him, Jesus Christ, and the power of his resurrection." He spoke with clear and forcible utterance, which could be heard throughout the church and showed how the soul of England and France had been revealed in the great struggle for liberty and the safety of the world. He applied the solemn words of Christ first spoken in connection with man personally to the nation saying, "What shall it profit a nation to gain the whole world and lose its own soul"? He referred to the pivotal action of this country when on Good Friday a year ago it made through the President its great decision for the allied cause and placed its people and its wonderful resources on the side of righteousness. It, too, has given its soul, and with the noblest resolve has entered into the resurrection life the Son of Man has bestowed upon the world. The archbishop was listened to with marked attention by all present, especially as he made his appeal to the nation and the church.

It is interesting to note that Bishop Hamilton, of the Methodist-Episcopal Church and chancellor of the Washington University, took part in the service by reading the first lesson.

SLAYS HER SISTER.

New Jersey School Teacher Murdered in Home.

Trenton, N. J., April 1.—Miss Estelle Consolloy, 30, a school teacher, was found dead on her bed yesterday by police officers who burst open the door. Her wrists were cut and she had evidently bled to death.

Her sister, Miss Cornelia Consolloy, a trained nurse, proclaimed herself as the murderess. She was regarded as demented, her actions fixing that belief in the minds of the police. But whether she actually slew her sister in a fit of mental aberration or merely fancied that she was the slayer after becoming demented upon discovery that the teacher had committed suicide, is a mystery the authorities will seek to unravel.

Clifford Taylor, an undertaker, was asked by Miss Cornelia to look after her sister's body as she had killed her.

Notice to Stockholders.

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Washington Sanitary Improvement Company will be held at the office of James R. Caton, Esq., No. 111 South Fairfax street, Alexandria, Va., on Tuesday, April 2nd, 1918, at 2 o'clock p. m.

Geo. S. Wilson, Secretary.

Alexandria City and Suburbs

The Allison W. C. T. U. will hold its regular meeting at 7:45 o'clock this evening with the president, Miss Slayton, 221 Wolfe street.

Robert E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, will hold its annual meeting tonight in Lee Camp Hall at which time officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

The Rev. Dr. Samuel A. Wallis, of the Episcopal Theological Seminary of Virginia, conducted Easter services at St. Georges church, Farlie, yesterday morning and in the afternoon at Nawood, Alexandria county.

The executive committee of the Alexandria Red Cross will hold a meeting in the Young People's building on Washington street at 8 o'clock this evening for the consideration of important business in connection with Red Cross activities.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 3 o'clock for Mrs. Mary Lloyd Lee, widow of the late Cassius F. Lee, who died Saturday, at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. William J. Boothe, 406 North Washington street. The Rev. William J. Morton, rector of Christ Church, conducted the services and the pallbearers were Messrs. George Uhler, George S. French, Thomas W. Robinson, Samuel Brent, George William Ramsey and Gardner L. Boothe. Interment was in Ivy Hill cemetery.

Corporation Attorney Samuel Gordon Brent, Mrs. D. Milton French and Master David French have returned from Harrisonburg, Virginia, where they attended the wedding Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock of Lieutenant George W. Brent, U. S. R., coast artillery corps, of Fort Monroe, and Miss Enid Sipe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Sipe, of Harrisonburg. The bride wore a gown of white satin, with tulle veil and she carried a shower of white peas. She was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Sipe, as maid of honor, who wore white and carried pink sweet peas. Lieutenant Brent was attended by Mr. A. Fletcher, of Harrisonburg, as best man.

The Easter week of war times will not be crowded with the parties and dances that formerly marked this period of festivity. The regular Easter dance of the Alexandria German Club will be greatly missed by the young people, and this is the first time for many years that this organization has not given quite a brilliant affair. The reception and dance to be given by the Refreshment Corps of the Red Cross in the auditorium of the Elk's Home Thursday evening, will in a way take the place of this dance, formerly the most important event on the social calendar, as Red Cross benefits are now taking the place of the regular social affairs throughout the country.

During the month of March the Clerk of the Court issued 58 marriage licenses, 47 to white persons and 11 to colored. During the same period he recorded 49 deeds.

Lieut. John B. Nicklin, Jr., of the Military Intelligence Bureau, Army War College, Washington, was the guest of his cousins Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Nicklin, of South Pitt street, on Easter.

Word has been received here of the sudden death Friday night at Carlsbad, New Mexico, of Robert H. Kemp, a native of this city. He is survived by two daughters. Mr. Kemp resided at Roswell, N. M. He was head of the Kemp Lumber Company, of New Mexico.

The Paulists Choristers of Chicago will not appear at St. Mary's church next Sunday evening as was reported last week. They will give only one concert while in this city, which will be at the Richmond theater next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. There are over one hundred men and boys in the choir and they are singing for the benefit of the stricken people of France.

William Albert Nalls, age 71 years, died this morning at half-past 5 o'clock at the residence of C. Ashby Bladen, 219 North St. Asaph street. The deceased was a carpenter by trade and had been in the employ of the Southern Railroad for the past 48 years. His funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock from the house. Rev. Dr. E. V. Regester will officiate.

The funeral of the late Alton Hill Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Cook, took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence of his brother, Marshall Cook, 425 Queen street. The Rev. A. E. Speilman officiated and interment was in the Methodist Protestant cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Claude Haynes, Frank Langley, Graham Simpson, Frank Scrivener, Clarence Metzger and Harvey Dawson.

Miss Isobel Gregory Boswell, the youngest daughter of Mrs. Isobel G. Boswell, and Captain Carl M. J. von Zielinski, U. S. N. A., were married in Christ Protestant Episcopal church Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, by the rector, the Rev. William Jackson Morton. The bride was attended by Miss Collins McKay Jones and Mr. J. K. Huddle, of the American consular service of Washington was Captain von Zielinski's best man. Captain von Zielinski is with the field artillery at Camp Lee and he and his bride will be at home in Petersburg after April 5th.

Large congregations were attracted to the churches in the city yesterday by the Easter services, both morning and evening.

The schooner Mulford, owned by Captain Charles McKenney, sunk in the river here yesterday at a dock between King and Prince streets. The boat is loaded with lumber and tile.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayward D. Luckett and Master Hayward D. Luckett, Jr., of Columbia, South Carolina, are the guests of Mr. Luckett's mother, Mrs. Lucie Peyton Luckett at her home in South Patrick street.

Miss Anna M. Gorman, daughter of Mr. P. F. Gorman, died this morning about ten o'clock at the family home, 224 South Lee street. The funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

The Old Dominion glass factory closed at noon on Saturday last and will continue to do so on each Saturday until the annual shut down for the summer. The employees will be paid for full time, however, it is stated.

The change in time, by which clocks and watches were set one hour ahead Sunday morning at 2 o'clock in accordance with the new law, was carried out in Alexandria very satisfactorily, apparently, and business of all kinds throughout the city seems to be running along as smoothly as though there had been no change whatever.

Mr. George E. Warfield, fuel administrator for the city of Alexandria, has received advices from the National fuel administration at Washington, urging the people to arrange at once for putting in their supplies of coal for the coming year. It is stated that two-thirds of the usual annual requirements will be allowed each consumer of coal and that blanks must be filled out in order to secure the needed quantities from the dealers.

The Second Baptist church yesterday was the scene of large crowds which were remarkable for their reverential attention. The Berge Sisters were earnest in their appeals in song, both morning and evening. Pastor Lloyd preached two strong sermons, in the morning on Matt. 22:42—"What think ye of Christ?" and in the evening on "Repentance," taken from Second Corinthians, tenth verse—"Godly sorrow worketh repentance not to be repented of, but the sorrow of this world worketh death." The chorus choir has reached quite a degree of excellence in the singing of popular revival songs from the "Billy Sunday" book, which is being used by the Berge Sisters. The meetings will continue throughout the week, closing with the Friday night service. There were three baptisms last night. All are cordially welcome at all the services.

HUNS CAN NEVER WIN.

England and America Beyond Reach of Armies, Says Vienna Paper.

Basel, Switzerland, April 1.—The Arbeiter Zeitung of Vienna, a copy of the Thursday edition of which has been received here, sounds a note of warning to the Teutonic allies as follows:

"Do not be deceived, Germany's victories will never force the entente to accept a peace of violence. If the Germans could take Calais and Paris, and even force France and Italy to capitulate, there will ever remain the English hidden in their isle and America protected by the ocean. They can always continue the war by sea. The greatest victory cannot impose a peace of violence on America and England."

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our many friends for their sympathy and floral offerings in our recent bereavement, in the death of our son, Alton Hill Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Cook and family.

FATALLY BURNED BY POLISH.

Applied to Hot Stove it Explodes, Enveloping Woman in Flames.

Towanda, Pa., April 1.—Mrs. Leon Ward, 23 years old, was fatally burned Friday afternoon, by liquid stove polish which exploded when poured on a hot coal stove at the home of Fred Kilmer, of Black Foot. The woman was burned from head to foot, and the house set on fire by the polish, which scattered in all directions. Several neighbors were badly burned in attempting to rescue the young woman.

SHELLING PARIS.

Churches Thronged for Easter in Spite of Bombardment.

Paris, April 1.—The bombardment of Paris by long-range German guns was resumed at 2:15 p. m. yesterday.

At the services in the morning the churches were even more crowded than is usual on Easter Sunday.

An official note issued last night says:

"The German long range cannon continued during the day to bombard the Paris district. One person was killed and one injured."

Bellingham, Wash., April 1.—Ten masked men took J. Dietz, secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World local at Sedro Wooley, from his rooms Thursday night and in a public street coated him with tar and feathers, according to word received today. Dietz was warned to leave, but was found this morning and taken to Mount Vernon by the county authorities.

MOB FIRES AUDITORIUM.

Two Newspaper Plants are Wrecked in Quebec Before Troops Restore Order.

Quebec, March 30.—Military forces were called out late last night to save the city from the hands of a mob, enraged by efforts of the military police to arrest deserters.

The mob fired the Auditorium Building, destroying all documents in the registrar's office and wrecked the Chronicle and Levenment newspaper offices.

The mob spread terror throughout the city until the arrival of the military forces, who scattered them with bayonet charges.

The Chronicle is owned by Sir David Watson, commander of the Fifth Division of the Canadian expeditionary force.

ANTI-DRAFT RIOTING.

Quebec Mob Opposes Forcible Entry Into Canadian Army.

Quebec, April 1.—Two girls and one man were shot yesterday, when a mob protesting against the arrest of deserters under the military service act renewed their rioting and attempted to raid hardware stores and seize guns and ammunition.

The military is mounting machine guns to compel order. The three victims were wounded by stray bullets during fighting which preceded a raid on a hardware store.

AMERICANS ARE ACTIVE

Solid Miles of Fighters and Machinery Moving From All Points of the Compass.

With the American Army, in the Field, March 31.—General headquarters as well as those close to the lines, is the scene of the greatest activity. It is an activity necessitated by a fighting instead of a training army.

There is no confusion despite the rapidity of movement. Roads for miles in every direction are checked to the utmost with every conceivable traffic of war.

Solid miles of American fighters and machinery are coming from all directions to join other fighting forces bound on the same mission as those which have already passed. The brown-topped American wagons and camouflaged guns and caissons are streaming steadily along the roads.

London, April 1.—"A local operation in the neighborhood of Gerre (probably Serree, seven miles north of Albert), was reported yesterday morning," Field Marshall Haig announced today.

"One hundred and nine machine guns were captured.

"The enemy twice attacked the outskirts of Albert yesterday evening, but was completely repulsed."

"South of the Somme the enemy is persisting in attempts to advance along the valleys of the Luce and Avre, but has made little progress.

"Throughout yesterday afternoon and evening counter-attacks alternated with varying success. Fighting is expected to continue."

London, April 1.—One whole battalion of German storming troops, that tried to establish a bridge-head position on the southern bank of the Oise river, between Chauny and Noyon, was wiped out by the French with the exception of a few men who were taken prisoner.

Both the British and French war offices continue to emphasize the severity of the German losses. Especially heavy were the casualties sustained by the Germans in the fighting east of Arras, when an effort was made to break the British grip on Arras and Vimy Ridge. Whole divisions were shattered by the British fire.

London, April 1.—The British and French forces took more than 1,000 prisoners yesterday, as well as many machine guns.

Paris, April 1.—The allies hold the supremacy o fthe air, and the heavily massed forces of German artillery are now being met on even terms by reenforcements of Anglo-French guns.

An Appreciation.

The members of the Men's Bible Class of the Second Presbyterian church, of Alexandria, desire to express their appreciation of the life and character of the late Charles W Howell, a beloved member of this class and a faithful deacon of this church for years, and unanimously adopt the following:

Whereas, it has pleased God in His providence to call home his servant, Charles W. Howell, on Sunday night, March 14th, and we mourn because we shall see his face and feel the power of his genial presence no more in our midst, we desire to place on record:

1. The high esteem in which he was held and the deep gratitude to God felt by all in sparing his life to the church, his family and the whole community.

2. We would commend his fidelity to his church to others for their emulation, as he ever witnessed for Christ and righteousness.

3. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family with the assurance of our sincere sympathy, and that a copy also be sent to the Alexandria Gazette for publication.

Grand Theatre Tonight.

What love will do to man in the way of making him spruce up and be a regular man instead of an uncouth disagreeable beast, is demonstrated in "The Awakening," the World-Picture Brady-Made in which Montagu Love and Dorothy Kelly are the stars. It will be shown tonight at the Grand Theatre.

Death Notices.

DIED—Monday, April 1, WILLIAM ALBERT NALLS. Funeral from the residence of Mr. C. A. Bladen, 219 North St. Asaph street, Tuesday, April 2, at 5 o'clock.

GERMANS ON DEFENSIVE

Terrific Losses by Boches When French and English Batter Both Sides of Menacing Wedge.

London, April 1.—The German drive is stopped. The spearhead of the menacing wedge that threatened Amiens and Paris and seriously endangered the junction point of the French and British lines has been battered in on both sides, and for thirty-six hours the Germans have been on the defensive trying to stop the ever-welling tide of the allied reserve army.

Mezieres and Moreuil have been recaptured, the former by the British, the latter by mixed French and British forces, at the point of the bayonet after it had changed hands twice.

Recapture of Mezieres represents a gain of at least two miles for the British, but from Moreuil the allied advance to Mezieres is more than three miles.

At other vital parts of the line, both on the northern and southern leg of the German wedge, important gains were made by the British and French, respectively, and in the center jointly. The great "come back" set in late Saturday and its momentum increased throughout the night.

Seven hundred prisoners were taken by the French in another important success—the recapture of Plemont. Between Moreuil and Lassigny the French advanced as far as Chauny-sur-Matz.

On this front, it is announced, the onstorming German waves were literally "mowed down." Terrific German losses on all parts of the fronts of counter-attack are reported. The British are once more in full possession of their positions in the Luce Valley, south of the Somme, thus materially reducing, if not entirely stopping the German menace to Amiens from due east.

To the north of the Somme, the British advanced their lines as far as Serre and took 230 prisoners.

Last night, as the result of the unrelenting French hammering against the German left flank between recaptured Moreuil and Lassigny, a front of 25 miles, Montdidier, the important town 55 miles northeast of Paris, which the Germans tried vainly to make the pivot for their plough-share movement, is within the grasp of Foch's reserves, and its recapture may be announced any moment.

The loss of the Moreuil is the bitterest pill Hindenburg has yet had to swallow since the allies first demonstrated to him that their front was not held by a "contemptible little army," that might be broken by sheer weight of flesh and steel. For it was to Moreuil that he swung the momentum of his drive toward the end of the past week after his shock troops had bitten granite on the French side.

Washington, April 1.—United states army officers were unanimous yesterday in the belief that Gen. Foch's forces have smashed the German advance and that the failure of Prussian arms to achieve their objective has proved a body blow to the prestige of the Kaiser, not only in Austria, but in his own country as well.

DON'T DISTURB THEM.

It has been suggested several times recently that the Virginia Congressmen, with their increased duties during the world war, should not be required to labor at fence mending at this time. While we acknowledge the right of every man to enter races for political positions, in the words of the wise man in the Book of Ecclesiastes, we believe there is a time for everything. The Richmond Journal publishes the following from one of its correspondents:

"As a native Virginian, having lived in Washington for twenty-odd years, I ask the citizens of Virginia to come to the Capital City and witness what I have since our entry into the war, men of all parties, as a general thing, acting as one party in support of the administration.

"I would also commend to them the highly patriotic example of former Senator Chilton, of West Virginia (contesting the election of Senator Sutherland), in withdrawing his contest, believing it the duty of all to forego personal ambition at this time, and not be a party to any contest against a man who has stood by the President.

"There is just as much justification for trying to get rid of the President as to endeavor to supplant any member of Congress who has shown himself to be patriotic and know no party so far as policies concerning the winning of the war are concerned, be he Republican or Democrat.

I ask my fellow citizens if they deem it patriotic, profitable or wise to contest nominations in the Third, Eighth and Ninth districts at this time of our country's need, when all of the present congressmen have proven their patriotism and worth, in acting for the best interests of the country? Why not follow the example of ex-Senator Chilton and wait until the close of the war to satisfy personal interests? Of course, there is no denying the fact that all of the congressmen in the districts named would be financially better off if relieved.

"All of these men are experienced in legislation and have proved thmselves able and willing to serve the best interests of their state and districts, very much better than a man, however capable he may seem to be, with limited experience. The new man must require several years to be in a position to do much for his district, just as these men had to do. The war may be over before they can have gained such knowledge as is required at this time. In the meantime their districts will be losing business and advantage which might be gained with those who are able to secure such. It can hardly be said to be a profitable change for state or district.

"If not profitable, it could hardly be claimed a wise move, it would be to the best interests of the country to nominate unanimously and elect all of the present congressmen and discourage any one from entering into a contest against men who have proven their loyalty and willing to stand by the President, regardless of party.

"To one not acquainted with conditions in Washington, it is impossible to appreciate the disadvantages a new man would be under; in fact, it is almost more than an experienced man can master, the present surroundings in all the bureaus and departments of the government."

CHECKING OF THE HUNS.

The counter attacks of both the French and British yesterday—reported as having checked the Hindenburgian Juggernaut in its slow, cumbrous advance toward Amiens—are not to be taken as disclosing the allied plan of strategy as held in the compact little brain of Gen. Foch, or as having determined the future contour of the battle.

As the Washington Herald says, "the fact is that Franco-British generalship has not yet disclosed its plan. Its chief aim now is to keep the Prussians puzzled and "guessing." Obviously the hour is near when it must strike. The German offensive, if not spent, is at least as near the end of its headlong, careening progress as it was when Von Kluck stuck his head into the trap along the Marne and the Ourcque, and was sent reeling back in disordered retreat. By not striking Foch is not only adding to the strength of the blow he will be able to deliver when the appointed hour comes, but is bewildering the enemy with suspense and anxiety—for he has not forgotten what Foch did to him at the Marne. He has a wholesome respect for the brilliant commander-in-chief of the allied armies.

It was Foch who sent this word to Joffre: "My right is retreating, my center is breaking, my left is fast giving way; I know of nothing to do but to attack." And attack he did; with what results the world now knows. It will be Foch in the present conflict who will forge the thunderbolt that will crumple the reputations of Hindenburg and Ludendorff. There is every reason to believe that the present desperate German offensive is going to be converted into a great allied victory, not only in terms of German losses of manpower and material, but in the amount of terrain that is recovered from the clutch of the Boche—terrain that he has purchased in the past ten days at such an outrageously heavy price in human blood. A clean-cut defeat for Germany in the present battle—such as we believe is now coming—will mean the collapse of the Hindenburg-Ludendorff legend."

The Baltimore Sun in commenting upon present conditions on the western front says:

"We get only glimpses of the ghastly effects of Kultur's work. One dispatch tells us that the German dead have been left unburied in heaps where they fell, and that the bodies of friends and foes alike have been stripped perfectly naked by the German military authorities in order to secure the equipment and clothing of the dead, so great is Prussian need, so cold-blooded is Prussian 'efficiency.' How many hundreds or thousands of wounded men have been left to perish on the field, while Prussianism rushed on to strike another blow for itself and God, will never be known.

"The present situation recalls that of 1916. Germany has staked everything on her western drive. Only comparatively small bodies of inferior troops have been left on Russian soil. If Germany is defeated beyond all question in France, there can be little doubt that there will be an uprising in Russia against Teutonic pretensions and arrogance. It begins to look as if, in popular parlance, the kaiser had bitten off more than he can chew."

BACK ACROSS BELGIUM.

The gray tide swept across Belgium in 1914, leaving it wasted and ruined. Today the railroad trains are rushing the broken waves of that same gray tide across Belgium in the other direction. The trains are numberless and crowded with the wounded. "Many," says report, "have detrained at Namur." The hospitals of northern France have proved insufficient to accommodate the sufferers.

The Philadelphia Record suggests that Belgium has looked on her own ravishing; now she beholds the broken bodies of her ravishers. "Verily, there is a sequel," says Holy Writ. Is this the first chapter?

Even in the most out-of-the-way places of Germany the wounded are arriving. The receding tide swells greater than the flood. Pitiless in its flow, it is powerless to excite pity in its ebb. The bed of its stream is too recent a monument to its pitiless "frightfulness."

It is not wrong to hope that this ebbing tide of broken humanity shall be soon followed by the defeated hordes of the Huns in uttermost rout. The march of Napoleon's army from Moscow was through bitterest cold and under harassment from the wild horsemen of the steppes. There is a chill that may well strike to the heart these ruthless hordes on such a retreat—the reprobation of mankind; and there are swift horsemen, intrepid and dauntless soldiers of the allies, who can be counted to pursue and harass relentlessly the Hun when he passes back across Belgium.

MR CARLIN'S CAMPAIGN.

Within the past few weeks we have talked with many of the leading citizens of Orange, and we find that the consensus of opinion is that Mr. Carlin will carry this county by an overwhelming majority in the forth coming primary next August. We have talked with a great many voters who have never even cast their ballots for him before, and every one of them told us that they expected to support him this time, because he had made a splendid record of services and that they did not believe a change should be made in these serious war times. We have also interviewed people in Culpeper and Loudoun counties, and they were of the same opinion.

Carlin's wonderful record stands for itself, and it is utterly useless for any one to gainsay it.—Orange Observer.

People in Alexandria county are supporting Carlin who never voted for him before, and they are men of considorable political influence.—Monitor, Rosslyn, Alexandria County.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

That Sunday Law.

Editor Gazette:

Several hundred boys from Camp Humphrey were standing on our street corner Sunday unable even to get even a drink of water. The river is near and if the boys need water any good citizen you see with a long face will direct you to the nearest wharf. The drug stores are closed, also the movies and we hope to close the lunch rooms a little later.

We want our boys to endure privation so they will become more accustomed to what they will receive later.

NO NOMINATION IN NINTH.

District Democratic Committee Meeting in Bristol.. Decide Against Political Fight.

Bristol, Va., April 1.—The Democratic committee of the Ninth Virginia congressional district, embracing the Virginia half of Bristol, set an unusual precedent to the nation when it met here Saturday by adopting resolutions opposing the nomination of a Democratic candidate for Congress.

The committee, together with other prominent Democrats here, viewed with grave concern the present emergencies of the world war, and unanimously came to the conclusion that the present is no time to divert activities from war preparation in order to spend the time in a long and heated campaign. It will be the first time in 30 years or more that the Democrats of this district have failed to nominate a candidate.

The resolutions adopted in this connection read as follows:

"Whereas the minds and hearts of all our people are, and should be, turned toward the winning of the war for democracy; and, whereas we do not believe their time and energy should be diverted from patriotic activities into the requirements of a fierce partisan campaign, therefore we recommend to the Democratic party in the Ninth Virginia congressional district that no nomination for Congress be made this year."

This section, if sustained by the party as a whole, leaves Representative C. B. Slemp, Republican, without opposition for the first time in the several campaigns in which he has participated.

GERMAN WOMEN MAY RISE.

Authoress Sees Chance of Revolution Unless Kaiser Wins Soon.

Atlantic City, April 1.—"If the German war lords do not soon win they will find another kind of a battle to fight, they will have their women to reckon with. A revolution started by the women of Germany is a possibility at any time. They are not the soft, shrinking creatures we find in some countries, but are big, aggressive and vigorous, entirely capable of rough and aggressive riot." This was the assertion here of Mrs. Gertrude Atherton, the authoress, an Easter guest at the Hotel Traymore, who spent six years in Germany carefully studying conditions just before the outbreak of the war.

"We know what the German men are," she went on. "Their women are the mothers and wives and sisters of the German men; capable of precisely the same ruthless tactics when pushed too hard—if they have a leader. That, to my mind, is the whole point. Given that leader, they would effect a revolution. Nor would they run risk of failure. The German race is not eight-tenths illiterates and two-tenths intellectuals, emotional firebrands, anarchists and sellers-out like the Russians. They are uniformly educated, uniformly disciplined. They will do nothing futile, nothing without the most secret and methodical preparations of which the German mind is capable. They are damnably efficient."

BAGS FIVE HUN PLANES.

Massachusetts Man In Lafayette Escadrille Gets French War Cross.

Paris, March 30.—Davice Putnam, of Brookline, Mass., a member of the Lafayette Escadrille, has brought down two more German airplanes, making a total of five, of which four are "official."

While patrolling the German lines Putnam was attacked by three monoplanes. After a sharp fight he brought one down and the others fled.

Later Putnam was attacked by two biplanes. He brought down one of them.

Putnam was decorated with the French War Cross and promoted to sergeant. He has not yet obtained his transfer to the American air forces.

DECIDE TO STRIKE.

Carpenters at Naval and Army Bases Demand Raise.

Norfolk, Va., April 1.—At a mass-meeting of union labor men, held yesterday at Odd Fellows' Hall, under the auspices of the Carpenters' and Joiners' Union, an agreement was reached for a general walkout at both the Hampton Roads naval base, Pig Point ordnance depot and the army depot base at Bush Bluff unless the demands of the men, made last week, for a raise in wages is granted. The men are asking for 62½ cents per hour, on an eight-hour day basis, time and a half for overtime, and double time on Sundays and holidays. The men are now receiving 58 cents, on a nine-hour day basis.

The meeting was behind closed doors with J. B. Oberman presiding. It was declared that every union man at the three bases, where extensive rush work is under way, will go out. Union leaders declare that between 5,000 and 6,000 union men will promptly quit work. Officials admit that should the walkout occur it would greatly handicap construction work.

VOTE ON STATE'S PROPOSAL.

Stockholders of Valley Turnpike Believed to Favor Transfer to Commonwealth.

Winchester, Va., April 1—The stockholders of the Valley Turnpike Company are to hold a meeting in the near future for the purpose of voting on the question of turning the famous highway between Winchester and Staunton over to the state. A bill providing for the transfer, passed by the legislature, has been signed by the governor. The supervisors of Augusta county, however, have adopted resolutions opposing the transfer, but it is thought a majority of the stockholders will favor the plan. If it goes through, the road will be maintained by Federal and state funds and all tollages abolished. Under the state highway system five important trunk roads are to converge at Winchester, one of the most important being that to be constructed from Washington, through Fairfax, Loudoun and Clarke counties, and connecting here with the Shenandoah Valley Pike.

NEW PLOT OF KAISER.

Plans Benevolently to Annex Flemish District of Belgium.

Kaiser William has been plotting to "benevolently" annex the Flemish districts of Belgium in a manner similar to that employed toward eastern territory, it is learned. The annexation plans were contingent upon success on the west front, and the kaiser had spread his propaganda and laid all his lines for another plunder haul. Returning Belgians revealed today that the kaiser's "comedy in camouflage" was to be engineered thus: Germany combed Flemish Belgium to gather renegade Flemings, German residents of the Flemish districts and a few pro-Germans, into an organization which has as its announced intention the freeing of Flemish culture and institutions from "walloon influence."

When the kaiser gave the word this element, an insignificant minority, was to meet and solemnly call upon Germany to come to the rescue of the Flemings. Germany would then announce to the world that she would take over Flemish Belgium because the people of that district had expressed their wishes through a process of "self-determination." If there were resistance from loyal Belgians it would be put down by a new campaign of frightfulness—exactly the course Germany has pursued in practically annexing Courland and Lithuania.

Restrictions on Mailing of Parcels to American Soldiers.

Washington, April 1.—Postmaster General Burleson has issued the following order relative to the sending of parcels to American soldiers across the seas:

"On and after April 1, 1918, parcels for members and individuals connected with the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe shall not be accepted for mailing or dispatched unless they contain such articles only as are being sent at the written request of the addressee, approved by his regimental or higher commander or an executive officer of the organization with which he is connected."

The Post Office Department believes that this action is prompted by military necessity and that the public will cheerfully acquiesce in it. Postmasters are instructed to enforce it rigidly.

FIRE AT ATLANTIC CITY.

City Block Destroyed, Entailing a Loss of $750,000—Blaze Placed Under Control Last Night.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 1.—A $750,000 fire today destroyed a city block, threatened the hotel district and created a small panic among the scores of thousands of Easter vacationists who were routed from their beds during the early morning hours.

In response to an appeal from the authorities here, Fire Chief Murphy and a trainload of apparatus and men left Philadelphia over the Pennsylvania railroad for the shore resort.

Blaze Starts in a Store.

The fire started about 2:30 this morning in the store of the Oliver H. Guttridge Company, 1326 Atlantic avenue, and fanned by a high wind, the flames spread quickly, and were beyond control almost before the Atlantic City Department arrived. The block on Atlantic avenue, from New York to Tennessee avenue, directly opposite the city hall, was doomed, and the flames were eating their way toward the hotel district under the impetus of a twenty-five mile breeze.

Major Charles D. White, Atlantic City commissioner, who is at the scene, as soon as the wind shifted, telegraphed Governor Edge to send four troops of the State militia to guard the damaged property after the fire was out.

SEA MONSTER IN DELAWARE.

Looked Like the Devil, and Shrieked, Says Ship Captain.

Chester, Pa., April 1.—Captain V. T. Hopkins, of the American steamer Toledo, docked at Marcus Hook, reported to Deputy Collector of the Port John J. Hare that while his vessel was coming up the Delaware River, after passing Fort Delaware, he sighted a strange animal and was unable to determine whether it was a lion, a seal, or a seaserpent. He summoned the mate, to whom he remarked that "it looks like the devil." When the vessel drew nearer the strange creature gave vent to an unearthly wail and disappeared beneath the surface.

Members of the crew did not get a glimpse of the mysterious creature, and it is emphatically stated that neither the captain nor mate are accustomed to "seeing things" other than the ordinary.

DEER A PEST TO FARMERS.

Sixteen at One Time in Rye Field And Crops at Their Mercy.

Stroudsburg, Pa. April 1.—Monroe county farmers are pestered with deer in the eastern section of the county, James Treible, who lives in the Mosier Knob region, is one of the complainants against the antlered thieves. Treible, who has four acres in rye, recently saw 16 deer at once in his rye field, only 200 yards from the house.

Thomas Drake, who has the same story to tell, said: "The buckwheat loss last year was the worst. We had five acres in buckwheat and one-third of it was lost through the deer cropping it. Every morning nowadays there are four or five deer in the meadows. No scarecrow will frighten them, and we farmers simply cannot stand it."

KILLED BY STREET CAR.

Mrs. Mary Bouldin, for Years Matron at Danville Rescue Home, Victim of Accident.

Danville, Va., April 1.—Mrs. Mary Bouldin, aged 65, was struck and instantly killed Saturday afternoon by a trolley car on Craghead street. According to some who witnessed the accident, Mrs. Bouldin stepped on the car tracks when the car was only five feet away. She was hit by the fender, and when picked up life was found to be extinct. No blame was attached to the motorman after the coroner had heard the facts in the case. Mrs. Bouldin was for many years matron at the Danville Rescue Home.

JAPAN WAITS ON ALLIES.

Has not Porposed Intervention in Siberia, Says Minister.

Tokio, April 1.—Japan has proposed no military action in Siberia, although if such a move should be suggested jointly by the Entente Allies it would receive the most careful consideration, said Foreign Minister Motono in addressing a joint session of Parliament on the eve of its adjournment.

After reviewing the present condition in Russian, the Foreign Minister said the Japanese Government was not concerned as to what form of Government Russia adopted. At the present, however, German influence had permeated almost all of European Russian and was tending to invade Siberia, which Japan must view with the gravest apprehension. Consequently, intervention had been discussed seriously at home and abroad.

In order to prevent misunderstandings arising from false reports, said the Foreign Minister, the Government welcomed the opportunity to make the statement that Japan was not proposing or initiating intervention. He continued:

"The Imperial Government neither suggested nor proposed military action in Siberia." Nevertheless, it regards with gravest apprehension the eastward movement of Germany. Hitherto Japan has received no joint Allied proposal, but if such a proposal is received it will be considered most carefully. This will be especially the case if the Siberian situation becomes worse, requiring decisive steps on behalf of the interests of the Allies, in which event the Imperial Government will not hesitate to take prompt and adequate measures in a whole-hearted manner.

"It is desired to make it clear, however, that the Imperial Government does not regard Russia as an enemy. Japan will not adopt an aggressive policy toward Russia, and does not hesitate to declare unreservedly and sincerely the deep and warm sympathy of the nation for the Russian people."

GENERAL FOCH.

How to Pronounce the Name of the New Commander.

The "ch" in Gen. Foch's name is soft. You pronounce it as you do the "sh" in josh The "o" you pronounce somewhere between the "o" in dog and the "o" in top. You probably can't get that right unless you're French. But don't say either "Fock" or "Foke" in speaking of the new generalissimo. That is the proper tip on the pronunciation straight from France, brought to Washington yesterday by Felix Frankfurter, assistant to Secretary Baker in the War Department. Here is Mr. Frankfurter's thumbnail sketch of the man himself. He says:

"One of his officers once came to Gen. Foch and said, 'General, the enemy has no weak points.'

"'Then we'll make some weak points,' was Foch's quick reply.

"He is admired and esteemed in France and England as a great military genius. His selection as supreme commander will unite all the factions among the allies."

HOLLAND PROTESTS.

Will Publish Reasons in the Official Gazette at The Hague.

Washington, April 1.—The State Department and the Dutch Legation were yesterday informed that the Netherlands government had printed in the official gazette at The Hague its reply to the proclamation and statement of President Wilson in taking over the Dutch ships. The Netherlands Legation here has been officially informed of its government's intention to take this step, but has as yet received no copy of the statement for transmission to this government. It is suggested that Holland will content itself with the publication in the official gazette. This, it is explained, is the government's usual method of making public all its acts.

Despite the fact that the press accounts of the statement received here indicate that the Dutch government differs with the United States and Great Britain on the legality and the friendliness of the action in requisitioning the ships, officials here insist that the legal position of the United State is unassailable. Holland is understood to protest against the seizure of the ships en masse and to their arming. Both these arguments were considered in the negotiations, the failure of which resulted in the requisition.

It is felt here that when Holland fully realizes that the United States has taken full care of the Dutch food allowance and Dutch colonial trade the feeling that the requisitioning of the ships is unfriendly will die away.

There is no possibility of any change in the action of the United States, it is officially stated. The ships are already seized and many of them are in service.

The press accounts of the Dutch statement, as received here last night, are not considered complete by either the State Department or the Legation and neither would comment formally on the situation.

SHOT BY MOONSHINERS.

Paul Beattie Wounded in Forehead And W. E. Payne in Shoulder.

Richmond, Va., April 1.— Paul Beattie, who was a witness in the famous Beattie murder case here, and William E. Payne, prohibition inspectors, were attacked and shot by a gang of moonshiners in Mecklenburg county, according to information received here.

Beattie and Payne were raiding a still when they were fired upon, Beattie being wounded in the forehead and right arm and Payne in one shoulder. Despite their wounds the inspectors succeeded in capturing William Byrd, a white man, and L. C. Clary, a negro, who were at the still. The officers also seized much whisky.

USING PAPER WATER PIPES.

German Shortage of Iron and Lead Spurs Invention.

The shortage of iron and lead in Germany has led to the invention of paper pipes as conduits for water, oil and gas.

Two different processes of making these are employed and they have been submitted to an extensive series of tests. In the process the tubes are made by rolling the sheets of paper around a mandrel of the desired dimensions until the required thickness is obtained, solidifying by means of a suitable adhesive and covering with a layer of special coating.

The tube are not appreciably affected by the prolonged action of illuminating gas, and those which were allowed to stand full of water for several weeks did not swell or exhibit any loss of resistance. They not only weigh far less than pipes of iron or lead—in fact only from one-sixth to one-tenth as much—but they resist three or four times as much pressure for a given thickness.

The joints are made by slipping sections of other tubes over the ends of the pipes and filling in the spaces by a suitable composition. Unfortunately the jointed pipes burst at a much lower pressure than do the separate tubes; hence they sometimes give way at the joints. Tests of their resistance to exterior pressure give an average considered sufficient to resist the pressure of the earth provided the tube do not gradually become soft.—Literary Digest.

CLUB HEADS IN RIOTS

Kansas City Disorders Break Out Anew When Attempt is Made to Run Cars.

Kansas City, Mo., April 1.—Riots, which for a time threatened to assume grave proportions, broke out when efforts were made late Saturday to resume street car service, paralyzed since Monday by the general strike.

National Guard Troops and police finally put down the disorders. Many of the rioters received severe injuries. Numerous arrests were made.

Street railway company officials tonight withdrew all cars, and announced attempts would be made tomorrow to furnish normal service with the cars guarded by troops.

At a street car intersection, where a crowd, estimated at 1,500, attacked a car, police guards on the car fired a number of shots, none of which, as far as was known tonight, took effect. A squad of fifty guardsmen, re-enforced by an armored motor car, rushed to the scene, and soon dispersed the crowd. Outbreaks were reported in other localities, but were put down by the police and troops.

Members of the Stage Hands' Union were called out during the day, and most of the larger theaters closed. Motion-picture theater operators joined the strike yesterday.

Mother Saves Child From Death.

Houston, Va., April 1.—The true love of a mother was forcibly demonstrated here recently when William, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Royster, fell into a well at the home of R. C. Royster, near Kenbridge, Va. At the time of the accident no one was near the house except the child's mother and Mrs. R. C. Royster.

The child had been playing with chickens on the back porch. He went to the well, thirty feet deep, with a surface of seven feet of water. The wall lacked seven feet of being finished. The well digger had gone home while waiting for material to finish and had placed some decayed boards over it.

When the child was missed, his mother and Mrs. Royster ran to the well. The broken boards told what had happened. The men were all in the woods, no help was near. Mrs. Royster ran for a rope and rang the bell to summon help. This did not satisfy the heart of mother, so she jumped into the well and caught on the wall, which was seven feet below. Then went safely down on the rocks, and caught her child by the foot as he was probably sinking the last time, for he was stiff and unconscious. Ten, with the child in her arms, she climbed up again and handed him out. Aid soon arrived and she was drawn out by a rope.

Doctors were summoned and after several hours of care and medical attention the child regained consciousness.
